H.M.S. Pinafore

Director: Jane Erwin Hammett Conductor: Brett Strader
Costume Designer: Judy Jackson MacIvaine

Gilbert & Sullivan's first blockbuster hit - one of the most enduring and entertaining stage works in the English language. The hilarious topsy-turvy story of love across social classes, snobbery, and incompetence in high places. Sir Joseph Porter steps onto the quarterdeck of the H.M.S. Pinafore to claim the hand of its Captain's lovely daughter, unaware of his rival - Ralph Rackstraw, the simple sailor lowly born.

The Gondoliers

Director: Barbara Heroux Conductor: Baker Peeples

A handsome pair of Venetian gondoliers... a mix up of identities at birth... and Gilbert's skewering of social equality and the class system with his usual brilliant wit paired with Sullivan's beautiful, lilting music. Who is the real King of Barataria? Is it possible to run a country with absolute equality for everyone? And how do you deal with two-thirds of a husband? "It is not opera or play. It is simply entertainment - the most exquisite entertainment we have ever seen." (The Echo, 1889)
